

January 30, 2026: On the Use of Construction Mafias to Extort Politicians and Citizens

As I have been made keenly aware, the 'Masons' (obviously) focus on controlling construction and building related projects such as ASS-FAULT, roads, MAC-trucks, CON-crete, sky-rises, HO-tells, and others businesses that employ a long list of low-skill and uneducated laborers to conduct their business model.

In fact, I have worked very closely with the construction industry in my personal experience and I can vouch for the 'type' of people that are employed there and the 'ways' in which they conduct their business operations.

So, it is by both enlightened and shadow experience that I present this further evidence to you of what is occurring to forcefully 'drive' us all deeper into a world of hell.

A low-brow, construction mafia bully is now using his low-brow and uneducated tactics to wage a literal war against the world using the only tool that he has in his tool box - the hammer.

THE ATLANTIC DAILY

Donald Trump, Demolition Man

If his East Wing project stalls out, that will serve as a potent metaphor for his presidency.

By David A. Graham

See, low-skill and uneducated people believe (very wrongly) that they 'know-it-all' and do not need anyone's advice on how to get by in life. People very close to me suffer from this problem and suffer to such a degree that I have had to push those that should be very close to me away to protect my own mental fitness for such a difficult task of facing these demons head on.

As Donald Rumsfeld famously stated:

"There are known knowns; there are things we know we know. We also know there are known unknowns; that is to say we know there are some things we do not know. But there are also unknown unknowns — the ones we don't know we don't know. And if one looks throughout the history of our country and other free countries, it is the latter category that tend to be the difficult ones."

We are now facing the fact that the person peering through the periscope and steering the battleship of America is nothing more than an uneducated man with a giant hammer that truly bothers, attacks, agitates, and harms others until he gets whatever he wants in life - to the tune of acquiring how much, Donald? $10 Billion dollars in wealth? I'm am certain that you will inflate that much more so let's use Donald's own estimates of his 'value' to the world: infinite wealth.

Unfortunately, the tactics of controlling a bunch of uneducated construction crews that value money, sex, and fear over the fine details of nuanced agreements, team-building, diplomacy, and general welfare of society are not the same tactics that make for an effective governmental leader.

The tactics being employed by our current 'captain' of the American battleship are much closer to those of a 'mafia' than a 'government.' Take for example today's news:

'A very Italian problem': inside the fight against the mafia and corruption at the Winter Olympics

Construction works for Milano Cortina have been a lightning rod for suspected infiltration by organised crime, but anti-mafia groups have adopted an approach that will help future hosts

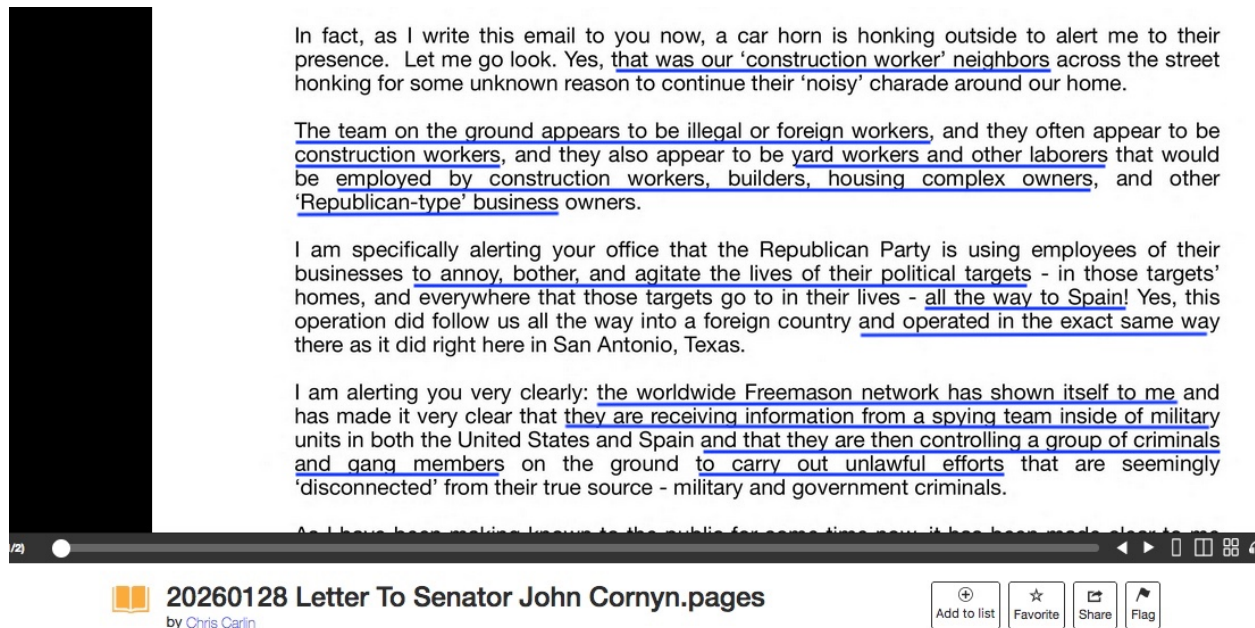

According to the Italian government's Antimafia Investigative Directorate (DIA), 38% of all the anti-mafia measures taken in Italy in 2024 were related to the construction sector, when about 200 public works sites were investigated for suspected infiltration by organised crime. The last mega-event held in Milan, the World Exposition in 2015, was blighted by corruption around construction contracts. The Expo cost €2.6bn. The bill for the Winter Olympics is currently running at well over double that amount.

Now, in addition to the financial tolls that are related to the waste and inefficiency of having a market that is no longer free to choose the most suitable and fitting contractor. The construction mafia tactics also result in much more costly low-brow, brawn-based, damages such as these:

The two brothers were not members of the mafia, according to the prosecutor, but have been charged with using the “mafia method”: extortion, coercion and intimidation. The claims allege the men threatened and beat rival drug dealers, dragged a nightclub owner into the woods at gunpoint, and attempted to corrupt a councillor by offering to secure him votes in exchange for construction contracts, and then threatening him when he refused to cooperate with them. “This is Cortina, we’re in charge here,” the men are claimed to have said during their arrest, “I’m not a small-town criminal, I’m the boss and we’ll solve this thing with guns.”

The brothers are still awaiting trial, but the local public prosecutor’s office has alleged that they were running an operation in three phases. The first was taking control of the drug distribution network in Cortina, the second was to take control of three local nightclubs, and the third was to extort the local council into awarding the construction contracts for the works being done for the Games. Among the evidence the prosecutor says it possesses is a note on one of the brothers’ phones saying: “We want the cemetery area for the garages, the former pastry shop, the slip road and the new ring road, the construction of the tourist village.”

Flash back to January 28, 2026 when I wrote to some unknown and irrelevant politician:

In summary, these are people that are abusing others to get what they want at our expense. These are people that are too dumb to know what they don't know. And so, they believe that they 'know it all' and are so hell-bent on using their 'willpower' to beg, borrow, and steal it away from others that they tend to become successful for the worst qualities and traits.

I have been friends with 'uneducated' construction workers. I like them as people. I am still impressed by how hard they work to accomplish their goals. However, I am not impressed by their business practices, their 'diplomacy' or their knowledge of how to lead a team using methods that don't involve their 'hammers' (above or below the waist).

The plain truth is that Donald Trump is one of those Construction Mafia characters that 'pounded' his way to 'infinite' wealth without acquiring the wisdom to understand that he does not know what he does not know - and now we are all suffering from it.

Donald: lay down your hammer. You are destroying the world now. You have already destroyed your own opportunity to be loved by America, you have destroyed your reputation, and you have destroyed the Republican Party. Now, you are in the process of demolishing America. You truly are the demo-man.

World, we are facing a crisis now where a mentally unfit person is not only holding office, but is actually and verifiably abusing his position of power to cause harm to others based upon his own personal preferences. If you have the ability to share this message to others, now is the time to do so. Stay away from these construction mafias. Funnel your resources, time, and energy into new directions and wait for them to shrivel away without nourishment. They are literally dependent upon threats, violence, and extortion for their sustenance. Let them starve.
